

Active Hope

AN INVITATION TO THE WORK THAT RECONNECTS

How can we remain resilient, creative, and empowered to act for the healing of our irreplaceable world?

SATURDAY, APRIL 18

10 am – 4:30 pm

First Parish Unitarian
Universalist Arlington

630 Mass. Ave., Arlington MA

(accessible by bus — visit www.mbta.com)

REGISTER:

www.spiral.brownpapertickets.com

$20/$10 student/low-income

(some full scholarships available)

Information about the Work That Reconnects:

<https://workthatreconnects.org/>

<https://interhelpnetwork.org/>

For questions or to register by email,

contact: annegoodwin@comcast.net

Artwork by Dori Midnight

The Work That Reconnects, developed by teacher and activist Joanna Macy and others over four decades, draws on deep ecology, systems theory, and engaged Buddhism. The work explores ways to envision and create a life-sustaining society, using group meditations, creative ritual, conversation, work in pairs and small groups, movement, poetry, and song.

This day-long workshop will be led by Amy Tighe, Anne Goodwin, and John MacDougall, who are members of the Boston-area Work That Reconnects community and an experienced facilitation team. They will offer practices in love and gratitude, a ritual to express and honor our pain for the world, sources of hope and insight, and tools for resilience and action to take into your life.